Grace is a legal consultant in our Beijing office.

Grace Gu is a legal consultant at Gunderson Dettmer's Beijing office. She is a member of the firm's China practice and venture fund formation practice group.

Grace focuses her practice on the representation of global and Asian private equity/venture capital fund sponsors in the fundraising of global and Asian funds. Grace provides legal services to funds in all stages of their operations, and regularly advises them on fund formation and governance matters, including the preparation of offering materials, drafting of operating agreements, the overall fundraising process, compliance with securities laws, investor relations and all aspects of day-to-day firm matters. Furthermore, Grace advises global asset managers on entering the PRC's financial market under the QDLP pilot program.

Grace earned her law degree from University of Richmond School of Law (J.D.) and her bachelor's degree in Economics from Boston University. She is admitted to practice in the State of New York and holds legal practice qualification in the PRC.
