Mark is a partner in our New York office.

Mark represents several of the world's most active growth equity funds in their complex investments. He represents investors in their investments in later-stage companies in various jurisdictions worldwide with an eye on the expansion, liquidity and diversification issues associated with minority investments.

Mark was previously an associate with Gunderson Dettmer and left to start Valcu Inc., where he was the Founder and CEO. Mark returned to Gunderson Dettmer after time spent at JW Player as the VP of Legal & Finance and SmartContract as Head of Operations.
