Gunderson Dettmer, the preeminent law firm serving the innovation economy, has reported 13% year-over-year revenue growth in 2025, increasing firm revenue from $503 million to $567.5 million, alongside a 20% increase in revenue per lawyer (RPL) to $1.709 million, according to financial results reported to The American Lawyer for the first time.

The firm's strong performance comes as Gunderson continues to focus on representing venture and growth equity investors and the companies they fund.
