

Rogo Raises $160 Million Series D

Client News

April 29, 2026

Gunderson Dettmer represented Rogo, the leading AI platform built for financial services, in its $160 million Series D financing. The round was led by Kleiner Perkins with participation from Sequoia, Thrive Capital, Khosla Ventures, J.P. Morgan Growth Equity Partners, BoxGroup, Mantis VC, Jack Altman, Evantic and Positive Sum.

The Series D brings Rogo's total funding to more than $300 million and positions Rogo to accelerate the company's global expansion, deepen its partnerships with the world's leading financial institutions, and scale its AI agent, Felix.

"The world's most sophisticated financial institutions are fundamentally reshaping how they operate using AI, and they're choosing to do it with Rogo," said Gabriel Stengel, CEO and Co-Founder of Rogo, in the announcement of the transaction. "The institutions at the forefront are rapidly moving beyond automating tasks to becoming AI-native firms, with agentic systems that work across the firm and get smarter with every deal."

The Gunderson deal team was led by Jared Grauer and included Amy Luong, Alan Gao, Vikram Dharasker, and Greg Logan.
