

Findigs Raises $32 Million Series C

Client News

June 2, 2026

Gunderson Dettmer represented Findigs in its $32 million Series C financing. The round was led by Marc Weiser of RPM Ventures, with participation from existing investors Nyca Partners, Frontier Venture Capital, and Western Technology Investment. The financing brings Findigs' total funding to date to $80 million.

Findigs is an AI-native leasing decisioning platform that helps residential operators across the United States improve revenue quality and grow their bottom line. The company plans to use the new funds to advance its leasing decisioning platform, expand affordable-housing capabilities (including LIHTC and Section 8 workflow support), and launch Rent Guarantee products that protect operator revenue across the full lease term.

“We built Findigs to end the trade-off between filling units and protecting revenue,” said Steve Carroll, co-founder and CEO of Findigs, in the announcement of the transaction. “Every application gets an automated yes or no in a few hours, grounded in how applicants actually perform after they sign. That’s what gets operators better revenue quality, and that’s what grows NOI. This round lets us extend that same engine. For more operators, across more housing types, and across the full lease term.”

The Gunderson deal team was led by Randall Clark and included Valerie Wood, Erica Davis, Shray Gupta, Eric Peshkin, and Carmen Hurtado-Esteve.
